

HEROIC GIRL SAVES CHILDREN'S LIVES

She Overcomes an Insane Intruder After a Desperate Struggle.

Chicago Feb. 28.—In a struggle with Robert Braun, in which a girl braved a magazine pistol, and was beaten about the face until she was all but unconscious, the victim last night won a desperate and by a remarkable display of courage probably saved the lives of four children.

The unequal fight occurred in the parlor of the home of George Eichner, on East Illinois street, and Miss Emma Eichner, eighteen years old, was the heroine. It began the instant that Braun who was nursing fancied wrongs against Eichner, knocked at the door early in the evening and asked to be admitted.

"No you'd better come around tomorrow," said the girl.

"I'm here now, and I'm here to stay," exclaimed Braun, pulling the magazine pistol from his pocket and forcing his way into the hallway.

Miss Eichner seized his arm, and with all her strength tried to push the intruder back. Together they struggled until reaching the parlor door, Braun noticed the four children.

Then he leveled the pistol at the children, who were huddled under aavenport in a corner, and was about to fire but the girl released her grip on his other arm and with both hands forced the muzzle of the weapon toward the ceiling as Braun fired.

Unable to bring the pistol into play Braun beat the girl until blood flowed from a half dozen wounds in her face. But she stubbornly clung to him, again and again he fired but to no purpose.

Finally the gun clogged and while he was examining it Miss Eichner pushed him out of the front door and closed and locked it.

Braun then rushed to the tailshop of an acquaintance, Joseph Stumpt, shoot him in the shoulder and in the hand, and was about to fire a third time when once more the gun clogged. He drew another weapon from his pocket but it missed fire. While examining it he shot one of his own fingers off.

He then abandoned his attack, visited a doctor's office and was arrested while his injuries were being treated.

Braun will be held in jail pending an examination into his mental condition.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Stand by Your Guns.

The Republican party gave this country the prosperity which in the last half century has made it the wealthiest and most powerful nation on the earth. And this prosperity was made possible only because of the protective tariff system. Free trade will be a national calamity.

Happily the free trade craze will not last long. We insist that even the Democratic congress to convene in December will not dare to inaugurate it. For the moment the people are blind but they will recover their vision, there can be no doubt about this, and by 1912 the country will again be demanding a protecting system, provided Democracy redeems its pledge.

Loyal Republicans will stick to their guns. There should be no more faltering in the ranks than there was in the loyal North after the first battle of Bull Run. As the gallant soldiers of the nation stood steadfast and loyal and eventually conquered, so will all true Republicans stand firm and resolute, and in the end win a victory over free trade folly.

Household Helps.

CHOCOLATE FUDGE.

Two cups sugar one cup milk, one fourth bar chocolate; mix together and cook until a spoonful dropped into cold water can be rolled into a soft ball. Take from the stove and put aside to cool. When cold, beat with a spoon until it becomes thick; turn out on a mending board and knead like dough until soft and creamy.

PRINCE OF WALES CAKE.

White part: Cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of butter, creamed; two cupfuls of flour, one-half cupful of sweet milk, one large teaspoonful of baking powder; lastly the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Dark part: One cupful of brown sugar, one-half cupful of butter, one-half cupful of cooking molasses, one-half cupful of buttermilk or sour milk, two cupfuls of flour, cinnamon, allspice, and cloves to taste, beaten yolks of three eggs, one cupful of nut meats chopped, one cupful of raisins chopped, heaping tablespoonful of soda dissolved in hot water. Makes two layers each of white and dark parts. Put together with nut filling. Sprinkle. Try it.

CAKE MAKING.

The secret of successful cakes is in the beating. Cake should not be stirred round and round in the bowl, but lifted up so that the air can get into it. A wooden fork or strong wire beater is better to use for this purpose than a paddle or spoon of any kind. First beat the butter to a cream then add the sugar, a little at a time, beat until smooth then the milk, a little at a time, beating all the while; next the flour and beaten eggs, a small quantity of each at a time, reserving a small quantity of flour to mix with the baking powder, or cream tartar, to be added the last thing. Bake in an oven that is not too hot at first. Cake rises better in a cool oven and is not so likely to fall.

MAKING MALLON FUDGE.

Two cupfuls of brown sugar, one cupful of milk, one-fourth cake of chocolate. Boil until a soft ball can be formed when dropped into cold water. Take from the fire, adding a tablespoonful of butter. Let the mixture stand about a minute and the beat until creamy, adding vanilla and marshmallows. Pour in buttered tins and cut squares.

CREAMED SWEET POTATOES.

For creamed sweet potatoes, wash pare and cook sweet potatoes in boiling salted water until tender. Let stand until cold, and cut in one-third inch cubes; there should be two cupfuls. Place in a sauce pan with two tablespoonfuls of butter, and cook three minutes. Season with a slight shaking of salt, pepper and paprika, sprinkle with two tablespoonfuls of flour, and add one cupful of milk. Cook slowly for twenty minutes.

PIEAPPLE SANDWICH.

This sandwich is delicious. Make an angle food cake, cut thin slices and cut these into round pieces with a cake cutter. Between two layers of cake place a round piece of pineapple of a large spoonful of shredded pineapple, then pour juice over it and pile high with whipped cream.

CREAM CANDY.

Take one pound of white sugar one cupful of water, one-half teaspoonful of cream of tartar, two teaspoonfuls of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of vanilla, butter the size of an egg; boil until it hardens when dropped into water. Pour upon a buttered plate, and when nearly cold pull.

FRIED EGG PRYNEES.

Cut three green peppers, two halves and carefully take out all the seeds and membrane. Heat a teaspoonful of olive oil in a frying pan, add the pepper, and fry for two minutes on each side; take out carefully and keep on a hot plate. Cut thin six slices of raw ham and fry it on the same pan for one minute on each side. Serve together.

HICKORY NUT CAKE.

For each egg used allow one-quarter of a cup of butter, one cup of sugar one cup of chopped hickory nuts. Beat butter and sugar to a cream. Add the well-beaten eggs, or egg, flour enough to make a soft dough, and last of all the nuts. Drop from a spoon on buttered paper, flatten with the back of the spoon, and bake in moderate oven.

FOR ICING.

Icing for cake may be prevented from cracking by adding one teaspoonful of cream to each unbeaten egg. Stir all together, then add sugar until as stiff as desired.

Helpless as a Baby.

Valley Heights, Va.—Mrs. Jennie B. Kirby, in a letter from this place, says: "I was sick in bed for nine months, with womanly troubles. I was so weak and helpless, at times, I couldn't raise my head off the pillow. I commenced to take Cardui, and I saw it was helping me, at once. Now I can work all day." As a tonic, for weak woman, nothing has been found for fifty years, that would take the place of Cardui. Try a bottle to-day. It will surely do you good. B-8

LITTLE THINGS.

Little drops of water, little grains of sand, Make the mighty ocean and the wondrous land. Thus the little minutes, humble though they be, Make the mighty ages of eternity. Little deeds of kindness, little words of love, Make our earth an Eden like the heaven above. —Frances S. Osgood.

John W. Sickelsmith, Greensboro, Pa., has three children, and like most children they frequently take cold. "We have tried several kinds of cough medicine," he says, "but have never found any yet that did them as much good as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." For sale by all druggists. m

COMMISSIONER RANKIN STARTS GOOD MOVEMENT

An Effort to Improve Corn Production in Kentucky.

Commissioner Rankin, of the State Agricultural Department is making an effort to organize boys corn clubs throughout the State. He proposes to form such clubs in each county, each club to contain fifty boys between the ages of 10 and 16 years, for the purpose of improving the grade of corn. One gallon of seed corn will be sent out by the Agricultural Department without cost and every contestant who raises sixty bushels per acre is to be given a diploma signed by the Governor, the Commissioner of Agriculture, the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the County School Superintendent. Every County School Superintendent is expected to obtain by private subscription a prize list to be an additional incentive to improve the grade of corn and to furnish a list of fifty boys who wish to enter into the corn growing contest. No better means could be selected to improve corn production, and within a few years it is anticipated that Kentucky will have the best of corn and will be on an equality with other first-class corn producing States.

Operation Thought Inevitable.

Farris, Tex.—In a letter from this place, Mary Kilman, says: "I was confined to my bed for three months, with womanly troubles and during this time suffered untold agony. The doctor said an operation was inevitable. I tried Cardui. Now I am well, and able to do a great part of my work." Thousands of ladies have testified to the benefit obtained from Cardui, the woman's tonic. It prevents unnecessary womanly pains and builds up womanly strength. It is a true tonic. Try it. It will help you. B-9

More About Reciprocity.

Protests against the proposed Canadian reciprocity are being made by all farmers organizations. The society of Equity and the Grange have forwarded to Washington reasons why they think it should not be adopted. The more its features are studied the more it is apparent that the farmers have been selected to bear the brunt of a free trade experiment. President Taft is going on the verdict at the polls last fall in his advocacy of the reciprocity measure. He says there is no mistaking the clamor of the people for a lower cost of the necessities of living and if this concession is not made that the people will rise up and wipe all tariff legislation off of the statute books. Consequently he is urging reciprocity with all his might and expressed the above sentiments in his speech at Springfield, Ill., last Saturday in support of his position.

Speaker Cannon is against the bill because he thinks it places a great burden on the farmer. In a talk to a number of the Illinois legislature Cannon made public his views. He says: "It will give Canada an immense market for her farm products both in theory and fact, while she affords us practically no market for our farm products in fact, whatever may be the theory."

Take the bill and examine it for a moment. On grain and cattle, the farmers' products, all protection is taken off so that there may be absolutely nothing in the way of Canada shipping these things into our country. On the other hand a protective tariff of 11-2 cents is laid on dressed meats and smoked meats, and 50 cents a barrel on flour. Who are benefited by this? Why the great milling interests and meat packers. The farmers are shoved out in the open market with their greatest competitor while the trusts stand behind the tariff wall and get the profit if you don't believe it get the bill and read for yourself. You will find in its perusal that in return for us letting down the tariff wall on farm products that Canada takes off the duty on the importation of farm machinery made in the United States. This is a great thing for the farm machinery trust, but we doubt if the farmers will appreciate this, inasmuch as they foot the bill. That this is the true interpretation of the legislation was made plain by the way the news of reciprocity affected the interests of the farmer and the machinery trust. As soon as the intelligence was flashed over the wires that President Taft was going to push this measure through if possible the price of grain in Chicago took a tumble, from which it has not yet recovered, and on the same day the stock of the International Harvester Machinery Company on the New York stock exchange went up several points in anticipation of the additional profits that would come in on removal of the tariff by Canada on its output. In short, farm stock went down and rust stock went up. When it is all summed down it is seen to be a scheme to buy in Canada a market for rust made goods and pay for it with our farmers' gold.

The predicament the farmer finds himself in now is due directly to his siding in last fall with the cry of "high cost of living." This administration is taking him at his word and is trying to cut it down. His helplessness is due to the fact that farmers are unorganized and without a mighty lobby at Washington, such as would be there working in any other branch of industry were threatened with the same danger to profits.—Rockport Journal.

Carried Portable Saloon.

It is believed that a bootlegger arrested at Danville, Ky., who was carrying around a miniature saloon in a grip, is the same person who made his escape from Marshal Woodward at Nortonville several weeks ago. The grip discovered at Danville was precisely the same as that which the flying bootlegger left in the hands of the Marshal.

The dispatch from Danville says: "James Floyd was fined $30 and costs and sent to the workhouse for seventy-five days on the charge of operating a portable saloon in Danville. When captured by local authorities, Floyd, it is said, carried a large object resembling a suitcase. Upon opening the device, it proved to be a miniature counter and in demijohns of liquor and glasses for serving. Floyd had been operating in the vicinity of the depot, carrying his outfit upon his back."

Forced to Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers, whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs, are urged to go to another climate. But this is easily and not always a cure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calumet, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surely the king of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Croup—all Throat and Lung troubles, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists. m

NEED OF CONTROL.

What the American people have done during nearly forty years of legislation and experience is to establish a policy for the control of transportation lines and great aggregations of capital in corporate form. I maintain the wisdom and the necessity for such reasonable control. It has been adopted by the deliberative judgment of the nation and, in my opinion, has come to stay. No great movement of this kind grows among a whole people without just impelling cause. It is not the work of shallow minds or of demagogues.—Frank B. Kellogg.

The U. S. Government in its "Pure Food Law" does not "indorse" or "guarantee" any preparation, as some manufacturers in their advertisements would make it appear. In the case of medicines the law provides that certain drugs shall be mentioned on the labels, if they are ingredients of the preparations. Ely's Cream Balm, the well-known family remedy for cold in the head, hay fever and nasal catarrh, doesn't contain a single injurious drug, so the makers have simply too print the fact that it complies fully with all the requirements of the law.

MISSOURIAN GETS MUDDLED

Editor Gets Two "Items" Confused and Confounded and Makes Strange Reading.

It is really not to be wondered at that the Missouriian demands a full and clear elucidation of the whys and wherefores of any proposition that is suggested to them, when the editors of the state are inclined to get rattled and give out such a bit of dope to their readers as the following accounts of a marriage and a sale bill that got mixed in the forms. Read it:

A Missouri editor who was full of hard elder, got a bill and a marriage mixed, says an exchange. The description ran as follows:

William Smith, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, was disposed of at public auction to Lucy Anderson on my farm one mile east of here in the presence of seventy guests, including the following to-wit: Two mules, 12 head of cattle, Rev. Jackson (the nuptial feast averaging 1250 pounds on the hoof. The beautiful home of the bride was tastefully decorated with a sea-wash claf spade, 1 sulky rake, 1 feed grinder, 1 set of double harness nearly new, and just before the ceremony was pronounced, Mendelssohn's wedding march was softly given by one milch cow 5 year old, 1 jersey cow to be fresh next April carrying a bunch of flowers in her hand and looking charming in a gown made of light spring wagon, two boxes of apples, 2 racks of hay, 1 goldstone mouse-line, desoult' trimmed with about 100 bushels of spuds. The groom is well known and popular young man, and has always stood well among society circles of twelve Berkshire hogs, while the bride is an accomplished and talented school teacher of a splendid drove of Poland Chinas—pedigrees if desired.

Among the beautiful presents were two sets of silver knives and forks, 1 spring harrow, 1 wheelbarrow, 1 go-cart and other articles too numerous to mention. The bridal couple left yesterday on an extended trip terms of 12 months time extended to two responsible parties, otherwise spot cash luncheon will be served at the tab. After this Mr. and Mrs. Smith will go to housekeeping in a cozy home at the corner of mail and Dr. R. L. Granby, auctioneer.

Tobacco for the Sailor Man.

Uncle Sam admits that the most important thing in the life of his sailor men is their tobacco. All other supplies are bought, as Uncle Sam thinks they ought to be bought, and the lowest bidder under the specifications gets the contract. But the sailor men choose their own plug tobacco and that's what is bought, and by the ton, and put in the commissary for them. The board of officers sitting on the job takes all the plugs that manufacturers submit to them, cut them up into bits, distribute them around among the men and then take a vote on it by getting all the opinions properly classified. Then the sailor man can't kick about the tobacco because they did it themselves.—New York Press.

Running a Newspaper.

George Ade says about every other fellow you meet thinks he could run a good hotel, and we have come to the conclusion that about every one you meet could run a fine newspaper, remarks Eugene L'Hote, the genial editor and publisher of the Hillford (Ill.) Herald, editorially in a recent issue of that bright and interesting paper. Men will take the liberty to tell you how to run a paper, asserts L'Hote when they wouldn't think of binding to the merchant how to conduct his store or tell the preacher what to preach. They pay good money for schools and don't know whether Johnny is learning the rule of three or how to hold a cigarette gracefully, but when it comes to the newspaper, aizzling cats, there's where they all get off. During the past week a friend wanted to know why we didn't try and run a paper a little more along the lines of how Christ would run a paper. We don't know just how that would be. In the first place if Christ was back on earth we don't believe he would go into the newspaper business at all, and if he did we are sure he wouldn't come to Milford to do it. If our friends had wanted it more on a religious plane we could tell him frankly that it wouldn't pay. There is not an editor or a preacher that could tell the truth for thirty days and stay in the community in which they live. If our friend doubts this let him try telling the absolute truth for just one week and see where he lights. We never were much to "soft soap" or "balarkey" anyone; in fact our bluntness and honesty of speech has cost us many friends. Tell the truth! We aren't going to do it, yet we believe there would be a better understanding with humanity; many times, if people had the courage to do it. A Kansas editor announced he would try for one week and he is still in the hospital. He didn't get past the first day. The following item appeared in Monday's issue and now the boys are getting out the paper. This is what he said: "Married Miss Sylvia Rhode to James Cannahan, last Sunday evening at the Baptist church. The bride was an ordinary town girl who don't know any more than a rabbit about cooking and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by any means and has a gait like a duck. The groom is an up-to-date leader, has been living off the old folks all his life and don't amount to shucks now. They will have a hard life while they live together."

May Get Corn Show.

George B. Karsner, a well-known farmer of near Lexington, Ky., who was in charge of the Kentucky exhibit at the National Corn Exposition, which has just closed at Columbus, O., is confident that the National Corn Exposition for next year can be secured for some Kentucky city if a proper effort is made.

Mr. Karsner has sent a letter to the Lexington Commercial Club urging that body to take up the question and make an effort to secure the next National Corn Exposition for that city. An effort was made last year by a number of Kentucky corn growers, headed by Frank M. McKee, of Woodford county, president of the Kentucky Corn Growers' Association, to induce the Louisville commercial organizations to make a bid for the National Corn Exposition of 1911. Mr. McKee expressed confidence that it could be secured for Louisville. For some reason, however, the Louisville organizations failed to take any active steps in the matter, and the exposition was given to Columbus, O., where it has just been held. A number of prominent corn growers will endeavor to get the Lexington Commercial Club interested in the project.

PUSHER OF BOGUS COIN CONFESSES

Man Under Arrest at Somerset Acknowledges his Guilt and Exhonorates Others.

Somerset, Ky., Feb. 28.—Thomas Bell and Joseph Coffey of Wayne county, who were arrested by United States Deputy Marshal Coleman, had, their examining trial before United States Commissioner, E. W. Weedy, when Coffey pleaded guilty not only to passing counterfeit money, but admitted also that he had made molds and manufactured the money himself. The molds were found by Secret Service Agent S. A. Donella, of Louisville who was sent here to work up the case. The molds, were made of lead, while Coffey said he made the money, which was of the five cent specie, from Babbitt metal. He admits having passed about 50 or 75 of the bogus coins.

He exhonerated Bell, who is his brother-in-law, from any connection with either the making or passing of the money although Bell testified that he saw Coffey making the molds and afterward making the coin. Bell was released while Coffey was held over to the United States Court at Covington, under a heavy bond which he could not give.

Uncle Sam is to Have Some Banking Reform.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 25.—That the United States within the next two years will have legislation insuring a new and far-reaching scientific banking system, designed too last a century, is the prediction of Congressman Edward B. Vreeland, chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee of the House of Representatives and vice chairman of the New York Monetary Commission. Mr. Vreeland makes this prediction in a statement to the State Bankers' Association here, adding:

There is not a single doubt that we are going to have radical reform in our banking and currency system. The danger on a panic must be done away with. The people will never again submit to the suspension of payment by banks and all the suffering that such a thing entails. Our periodical panics have been more expensive in losses of money and in hardships than all the wars the country has ever known.

Stop Those Pains.

It relieves headache, backache, dragging feelings, irregularity, nervousness, misery, and womanly weakness. It is safe. It is reliable. It does the work. Will you try it? Please do. B-7

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce Hon. W. S. Dean a candidate for reelection to the office of Representative in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Republican party.

The trouble with "Argus" is that he don't know a farmer from a wall street speculator.

The indications are that there will be a large crop of Republican candidates to select from when the State Convention meets to nominate for State offices.

The Kentucky State Farmers' Institute held, at Mt. Sterling last week, without a dissenting vote went on record in opposition to the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

The farmers institute declared in favor of necessary legislation to carry out the provisions of the recently adopted amendment to the State Constitution in the interest of good roads.

A United States Senator, who will filibuster to prevent a vote being taken upon the eligibility of a fellow member, is to our way of thinking just as bad as a man who would bludge his way into that body.

We have never yet seen any answer to our query, concerning the way in which cheap food supplies for the consumer is to be brought about under the reciprocity treaty, without lowering the price of farm products.

We hope Senator Bradley will pay no attention to the telegrams which the Louisville Herald is urging the people to send him requesting him to support the free trade treaty with Canada, and that he will stand by Kentucky farmers who to a man are opposed to the measure.

Many farmers in Ohio County who a year or two ago were opposed to making any effort to secure macadamized roads, after having tried a few miles during the muddy weather are now heartily in favor of every means which can be brought about to secure permanent macadamized roads on all important thoroughfares of the county.

While in Mt. Sterling last week we had the pleasure of visiting the office of the Mt. Sterling Gazette, which is so ably edited by Stanley O. Wood. The Gazette is an up to date paper in every particular, and has recently been making a fight for cleaner streets in Mt. Sterling which has attracted attention far and wide, and has been a great benefit to the citizens of that city.

It looks as though the Democrats would kill the proposition to elect United States Senators by direct vote because the Republicans insist that the measure shall be coupled with some sort of assurance that elections will be fair in the South. How much better is the United States Senator who secures his election to that body by the disfranchisement of more than half the voters in his state, than the one who buys a few votes from the opposite party to bring about his election?

It is commonly accepted that the American Indian is fast disappearing from the face of the earth. A recent article in the Youth's Companion calls attention to the fact that there are probably as many Indians in America as there were 300 years ago, but that they are fast becoming civilized, taking advantages of our school facilities and other means of improvement. There are now in round numbers 306,000 in the United States and territories, and it is probable something near the number there when Columbus discovered America.

"Old Guard," Geo. W. Long is almost always right, politically speaking. His article published elsewhere in this issue in response to Mr. Stoll's request for suggestions for the coming Republican State platform, meets with our hearty approval in almost every particular. In other words it is simply Republicanism, which is always progressive, except that he fails to discuss the protective tariff feature, but we know where he stands on that question and he probably considered that it was not important in a State campaign. It is however, to the extent that a United States Senator is to be selected by the incoming Legislature. We want no man selected for that position who will vote to place everything that the farmer has to sell on the free list and at the same time compel them to purchase all articles which are protected by the tariff.

There is politics in the Kentucky State Farmers' Institute, but it is confined to the Democratic party. Two factions of that party are each trying to control the State Board of Agriculture for the purpose of securing the patronage to be given out by it. The present secretary, J. W. Newman represents one faction and Hubert Vassland, formerly Commissioner of Agriculture, the other. The Republicans seem to hold the balance of power between the two factions and may thereby be enabled to at least secure fair treatment, which has not always been accorded them. Some years ago when the State Board of Agriculture was created and the places filled by appointment by Governor Beckham, he appointed eleven of them from the Democratic party, thus eliminating any politics from it sure enough. Each party should be recognized in the positions to be given out and all should work together in harmony for the important measures which are to be promoted for the welfare of the State of Kentucky.

WHICH IS THE LIE?

The following quotation from an editorial in the Louisville Herald is a fair sample of the double back-sword argument used by promoters of the Canadian reciprocity scheme, the latest and most effective weapon which is being used in behalf of universal free trade in the United States:

"Reciprocity means a lifting of the high price burden that rests on the shoulders of the consumer. It involves no injustice to the farmer, despite the protests that have been made by designing persons in his name."

The farmers are doing their own protesting and they are doing it in a vigorous manner too. Only last week at the State Farmers' Institute, held at Mt. Sterling, unanimous resolutions were passed in opposition to the treaty and telegrams sent by a special committee to Senators Bradley and Paynter requesting them to oppose it. How can the burden of high price be lifted from the consumer so far as farm products are concerned without hurting the farmers? Do the advocates of the treaty think that the farmers are the same old fools they used to be? Most of them can now read for themselves and think for themselves. They are not receiving one penny too much for any product of the farm to-day, and any reduction on any of these products is an injustice to them robbery of the most deserving class of citizens in America, and the ones upon whose shoulders must rest every responsibility for prosperity in this country. "Made by designing persons" is a nice figure of speech. Pray who are the designing persons? Are they the mill men whose flour remains on the protected list. Are they the meat packers whose meat remains on the protected list, while the wheat and cattle of the farmer is placed on the free list? If any designing persons are working in this matter to fool anybody, it certainly must be those who expect to be benefited and they are pulling the wool over the eyes of the President and members of Congress. No one has yet had the hardihood to point out any instance where the farmers will be benefited by this scheme.

A TENDER SPOT.

Because we mildly criticized some advice which the Hartford Herald gave to its readers last week, that paper comes back at us with a snarl and gnashing of teeth which can only indicate that we touched a TENDER SPOT. Instead of justifying its advice to the Democrats to support the nominee, NO MATTER WHO HE MAY BE, the Herald proceeds to defend its course on the idea that this paper has always supported its party nominees. That is no justification for the bad advice which the Herald gave its readers. It complains that this paper supported "The impossible Bill Taylor and the unutterable Gus Willson," whatever, that may mean. Well there was never any reason why the paper should not support either of them as a nominee of its party. We know of nothing which Taylor has ever been proven guilty of except to have his office stolen by the Herald's party and its leaders. As far as governor Willson is concerned there was no reason why this paper should not have given him its cordial support as against Mr. Hager. He has done a good many things, since he became governor which we have disapproved and our readers will bear us out in the statement that we have not hesitated to say so. The writer will not support any nominee which the Republicans may force upon the party, no matter what his record may be and if the editor of the Herald will search our files he will find that we no stated in a leading editorial during the past few months. It has announced its independence, so far as party nominees are concerned, unless they are nominated fairly and are men of character and standing, capable of fulfilling the duties of the offices to which they aspire. So far as we know, the Republican party in this country or state has never named men other than those who would fill the above requirements when nominated. It is true that some of them have fallen short of our expectations after becoming office holders, and some of them have so far forfeited our respect as to preclude our support in the future. The Hartford Republican is probably no better than the average party paper and does not claim credit for being "Purer" than everybody else, but it has never yet advised its Republican readers to support the nominee, no matter who he may be, whether an ex-convict an enemy of the people or a yellow dog with a string around his neck, and whom the Hartford Herald, in effect, does that, and we merely call attention to it in a kind way, the only answer which it gives is a rambling talk about "rattlers for the baby and an eleven foot hippopotamus." All of which is respectfully submitted to our readers for a verdict as to which one of these papers is really the friend of the people.

One-Sided Protection.

This paper is opposed to any form of so-called "reciprocity" with Canada which admits Canadian food products to this country free of duty. We can see no difference between Free-Trade with foreign countries in manufactured products and Free-Trade with Canada in agricultural products. In one the American manufacturer is hit. In the other the American farmer is made to suffer. We do not believe in that kind of one-sided protection. It is our humble opinion that the farmer of Iowa is just as much entitled to protection on his products as the Eastern manufacturer is on his.

Is there anything wrong with this position?—Manchester Ia., Press.

An Un-Republican Principle.

"The Syracuse Post-Standard," says the Albany Argus, "insists that reciprocity is a Republican principle." And the Post-Standard does not deny the accusation. But it cannot name a sentence in any Republican platform in the past fifty years which sanctions the kind of reciprocity that is contemplated in the Canadian agreement. On the contrary, every Republican platform that has mentioned the subject at all has distinctly condemned reciprocity in "articles we ourselves produce."

Gone Democratic.

The extent to which a Republican administration has "gone Democratic" in the matter of the "reciprocity" arrangement with Canada was indicated by the vote of February 13, by which the House ordered immediate consideration of the bill as reported from the Committee on Ways and Means. The vote was as follows:

For immediate consideration	197
Against immediate consideration	120
Republicans voting for	63
Democrats voting for	134
Republicans voting against	101
Democrats voting against	19

Here we find an almost solid Democratic vote supporting a Free-Trade measure emanating from a Republican administration, and 101 out of 174 Republicans refusing to support that Free-Trade measure. No political event of equal gravity has occurred since the apostasy of Andrew Johnson forty-five years ago.

The vote on the passage of the bill, February 14, was as follows:

FOR THE BILL.
Republicans	78
Democrats	143
Total	221
AGAINST THE BILL.
Republicans	87
Democrats	5
Total	92

Total vote cast, 313.
Majority for the bill, 126.
Not voting, 73.

Herein is revealed the fact that the House Democrats are practically a unit in support of Free-Trade "reciprocity." Upon no question in the past fifty years have the Democrats been so nearly unanimous as on this strictly Free-Trade measure. Equally true it is that never since this party came into power have the Republicans in the House been so divided on a question of party principle. In this there is food for reflection.

OUTLINES PRINCIPLES

any great length of time, and never assessed, except in rare instances, might as well be exempt; that securities (stocks in foreign corporations, bonds, notes and other securities and evidences of debt) should pay an income tax at a reasonable rate and under regulations which would insure their being listed; that only public service corporations should be charged with a franchise tax, and this should be based on earnings after operating expenses have been paid, that license taxes should not be assessed against any useful profession or occupation, confining them to liquor dealers whose occupation is not regarded as useful, however desirable it may be to many; to peddlers, whose itinerant lives makes it almost certain that they pay no property tax; to shows, which like peddlers pay little or no property tax and require extra police protection and to a few other things, the regulation of which requires a license.

I am for local option, but not for State-wide prohibition, unless the constitutional amendment putting it into force is to take effect at least fifteen years after its adoption, so that those who have invested their money in the business while the law recognized it as legitimate may dispose of their property without material loss. The constitutional provision for local business since then was invested with full knowledge of the hazard involved.

But while I am for local option, I doubt the wisdom of agitating the question of extending it to other counties until those counties including their cities according to classification, shall send to the Legislature a majority in favor of such extension.

For instance, I do not think it proper to further retard general legislation and engender personal antagonisms, as has been done in the last two sessions of the Kentucky Legislature, by trying to force a vote on local option in Louisville and Jefferson county until there is a sufficient public sentiment back of the movement to send a majority of Jefferson county's Representatives to Frankfort in favor of such a law; and the same rule applies to counties having titles of other classes not now included in the law.

I urged the opposite view in 1907 and we have twice tried to pass such a law and have not only failed, but have retarded other business. I am now willing to leave every member of the Legislature to follow his own instructions unhampered by a platform which they usually refuse to obey. I am in favor of building good roads by State aid and believe that convicts should work on public roads.

instead of engaging in the manufacture of products that come into competition with free labor.

I favor a law requiring the publication of campaign contributions and a statement of their expenditure.

I have given what I conceive to be the principles of the Republican party, a general outline of the public questions upon which parties may be called upon to express their views, and my own position upon these questions. I believe a virile party, such as I conceive the Republican party to be, should have decided views upon all living issues and should courageously express and defend them, but how far other members of the party may be willing to go on the questions outlined or others that may be suggested, I do not know.

I hope the party will still be willing to indorse its fundamental doctrines, which are a part of it, and in addition will take advanced ground on the questions which are pressing their attention upon the public mind, and I am quite sure it will do so. But it must be recognized that the only way to organize men into parties for united action is by mutual concessions of individual views and compromises of personal opinions, leaving the decision to a majority of those directly charged with the duty of defining the party's attitude on public questions.

Very respectfully,
G. W. LONG.

Bible School of First Christian Church, This City.

The growth of the First Christian Church in Hartford, since its organization a few years ago, has been something remarkable. While yet the members of this denomination in Hartford are planning for many more great things for their church here, they have accomplished many things in the past few years. Upon the organization of the church on Dec. 4, 1905 the services were held at the Masonic Hall, then located on Union street. For perhaps two years the meetings were held there, when services were later held at the Presbyterian church for a year, when the Methodist church was sold to the Christian Church, the Methodist planning to erect a large edifice. Rev. W. B. Wright, the present resident pastor of this church, was the first pastor. He was succeeded by Rev. H. C. Ford, and he by Rev. J. P. Tucker.

The Hartford Bible School will entertain the 18th District Bible School Convention, composed of eight counties, April 18 and 19.

The Bible School of the First Christian Church is in a splendid condition and under the supervision of Mr. James H. Williams as Superintendent, assisted by Mr. A. K. Anderson, as assistant Superintendent. The Secretary-Treasurer of the Bible School is R. R. Riley and the teachers are: Adult Bible Class, James H. Williams; Junior, Mrs. W. B. Wright; Intermediate, John W. Taylor; Primary, Miss Gertrude Wright. The following concerning the Hartford Bible School recently appeared in the Weekly Bulletin, of Louisville:

The First Christian Church of Hartford was organized with fourteen members in December, 1905, and the first place of meeting was in a twenty-by-thirty room with a nine foot ceiling and hewn seats. We now own a place of property worth $1,500 and have a resident membership of thirty-five.

The Bible School was organized in January 1906, and during the first year had an average attendance of twenty. During the last few months our average attendance has been fifty-four, and for the entire year of 1910 averaged forty. This school is now Front Rank, having five of the seats, and has the distinction since its organization of having an average attendance in excess of the church membership. If this is success it should be attributed largely to the fact that the officers and teachers positively refuse to be absent, showing that it is the "Spirit of Christ working in them to do His will."

The local talent entertainment at Dr. Bean's Opera House last Friday night for the benefit of the fund for the new Methodist Church, was one of the best entertainments that has held the boards at that play house for months. The audience was the largest that has ever assembled at one time at that place, and everyone was greatly pleased with the entertainment and praised all who took part. The plays, "A proposal Under Difficulties" and "Jeanette's Wedding" were greatly enjoyed, but best of all were the Jolly Walter Drill. Song by Little Kathryn Williams, and Duo by Mary Ellen Moore and T. Larkin Griffin. The entertainment and coaching were under the direct charge of Miss Mary Taylor, to whom much credit is given for the splendid success of the affair. The special music was under the supervision of Mrs. J. I. Moore and Mrs. Z. Wayne Griffin, and this was one of the most enjoyable features of the evening.

Hartford and Beaver Dam Basket Ball teams will match game of basket ball at Dr. Bean's opera house Saturday evening. Two games will be played one each by the first and second teams of each city. Both teams are in splendid condition and the Beaver Dam boys have won several games, and fell confident of winning Saturday night, while on the other hand our boys are practicing daily and have some fine players, and will undoubtedly make it interesting for the visitors. Everybody should turn out and give our boys a hearty welcome, and "root" for all there is in them. The Hartford first team will be composed of Herbert Felix, Center; Harry Glenn, right forward; James D. Ford, left forward; Devert Mosley, left guard; Rhea Hatcher, right guard. Second team, Claude King, center; Estill Barnett, left forward; Ross Taylor, right forward; Jesse Felix, right guard; William Moore, left guard.

May & Company, the contractors for the Hartford Sewerage system have completed their work with the exception of replacing the streets, in certain parts of the town, and it only remains for the town to accept the system as completed. The engineers pronounce the work first class, and it is claimed that Hartford now has the best sanitary sewerage system of any town in Western Kentucky, and far superior to many towns of from 10,000 to 20,000 inhabitants. Messrs. May & Company who have been so successful with the work here, will we understand continue contract work in connection with railroad grading, probably on the Henderson division of the L. & N. system. These men are thoroughly reliable and we bespeak for them due consideration in their line, wherever they may go.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM HARTFORD BOY

Now in Oklahoma—A. L. Hudson is For O'Rear For Gov-

Kiefer, Okla. Feb. 20th, 1911.
Editor Republican: No doubt you will be surprised to receive a message from me but hope it will be worth publication. After reading a column of publication in the Republican about the Stone-Morris' case which is true we of Oklahoma are especially proud to know that we have a man who will bring the fighting honors back to the white race. Carl Morris is a man who will do the work that no negro will ever get a chance to do. I have had the pleasure of seeing Carl, he is all he ever was represented to be and more. All he needs is the training which his now manager is putting through every day. Carl is no flim-flam and needs nothing but a little science and it won't take long for him to find that.

Well as to our little town of Kiefer it is situated just five miles from Sapulpa and is the center of the great oil pool in the world. We have two good substantial banks, three drug stores, six dry good stores, six groceries two hardware stores and other places of business such are found in western states. There are pool halls confined with what we Kentuckians call tigers. Our post-office handles mail for about 2,000 people. Our business in the oil field has been slow this winter on account of a scarcity of water we have at last had a good rain the first since last August of any consequence. We look for a general boom now new wells are being brought in every day they are of the very highest production.

Well there are several Ohio County people here and all are doing well. It is certainly a slight worth seeing for one who never visited the oil fields we burn gas in our stoves and for our lights at a cost of $40.00 per year and you don't have to have it split or break it nor carry it in just strike a match and set her off. Well I forgot we have two good hotels and a new M. E. Church almost completed.

Health is good here and this the western country is certainly the place for the working man, the average price of oil field men are from $75.00 per month up. The cost of living is somewhat high as meat is out of sight but every body lives and wears good clothes.

Well if this escapes the waste basket I may write again. Success to the Republican and Judge O'Rear for Governor, also W. O. Bradley United State Senator.

Texas Woman Near Death.

Wills Point, Tex.—In a letter from Wills Point, Mrs. Victoria Stallings says: "I was afflicted with womanly troubles, had a dreadful cough, and suffered awful pain. I certainly would have died if I had not been relieved by taking Cardui. Now I am stronger and in better health, than I ever was in my life. I can't say half enough for this medicine." Do you need relief? Cardui will help you. Try it for your womanly troubles. Its age is its guarantee. It cures. B-10

Turtle Soup.

Three hundred quarts of turtle soup were served at the lord mayor's banquet at the Guildhall. Turtle soup is associated primarily with the lord mayor's banquet and other city feasts, and Gog and Magog, the twin deities of the city of London, are popularly believed to have been nurtured upon it. The culinary value of the turtle was known at an early date. Henry Pittman, who was condemned for something or other, and transported to the Barbadoes, from which he escaped in an open boat to a desolate island was the first Englishman to acquaint his countrymen with the true value of the gigantic "shellfish." The turtle has often been made the butt of a joke; it is told for instance of Sir Philip Evans, a notable gourmand of his time, that, being at a city feast, he enviously watched his neighbor, who was busy eating a bowl of turtle soup, and keeping a piece of green fat for the bouche boche. Sir Philip, unable at last to resist, seized the delicate morsel with his fork, and transferred it to his mouth, and then, giving the stranger his card, said: "Sir, I am ready to make you the most ample apology but I must say you had no right to throw such a temptation in my way." Again, many years ago, when John Wilkes, was present at a Guildhall dinner, he called out to Alderman Boydell (of Shakespeare's name): "Mr. Alderman, shall I help you to a plate of turtle or a slice of the haunch. I am within reach of both sir." "Neither one nor t'other. I think you, sir," replied Boydell; "I shall dine upon the beans and bacon, which are at this end of the table." Another gentleman was asked the same question, and replied in the same terms. This was too much for the old chamberlain who rose from his seat, and with every mark of astonishment, and with a very marked air of "Silence," which being obtained, he thus addressed the chief magistrate, who sat in his chair: "My lord may be! The wicked have accused us of intemperance and brand us with the imputation of gluttony. That they may be put to open shame and that profane tongues be from this day utterly silenced, I humbly move that your lordship command the proper officer to record on our annals that two aldermen of the city of London prefer beans and bacon to turtle soup or venison."—New York Sun.

The Poultry Yard.

The March-hatched pullets will be the early fall layers. Many incubator chicks are killed with kindness by being overfed and kept too warm.

You need not be afraid the hens will eat too much crushed shells. Let them have all they want.

Make it a rule to count the birds every day. Some folks never do this. They might be robbed and never know it.

I have heard the advice given to feed the chicks all they will eat up clean. That won't do. They will eat up clean (the first week or two) more than they have any business eating.

Hard enough to sit for three weeks, without having to be gnawed all the time by insect pests. Look at your sitting hens once in a while and be sure they are free from enemies of this kind.

You can make money by getting a good rooster right now. Mate him with some of your best hens and set the eggs. Your basket will get full a lot faster after those pullets get to laying.

Particularly at this season of the year, do not set a hen until it is positive that she is thoroughly broody. If she does not have the full fever, she is apt to desert her charge, often after sitting a week or two.

As the weather is still cold, not more than eleven eggs, should be given a hen. When a larger number is allowed the eggs are not sufficiently covered, and those on the outer edge of the clutch are likely to become chilled.—Farm Journal.

PROSPERITY.

If adversity hath killed his thousands prosperity hath killed his ten thousands; therefore adversity is to be preferred. The one deceives; the other instructs; the one miserably happy, the other happily miserable, and therefore many philosophers have voluntarily sought adversity and so much commend it in their precepts.—Burton.

Not a Chance!

A man told another man a few days ago how he had been buttoning his wife's dress for five years and finally, in order to even the account, he had a shirt made to order with sixty-five buttons down the back.

"Did you make her button it?" eagerly inquired the second party, with a glad smile.

"I tried to and fell down like slipping on a banana skin," replied the first party. "She promptly told me to button the top button and let the others slide, explaining that they would not show when I had put on my coat."—Chicago Tribune.

Mehemet's Parliament.

When Disraeli was in Egypt—the story is told in Mr. Monypenny's biography—he met Mehemet Ali, who desired to introduce parliamentary institutions into his country. "I will have a parliament," he said, "and I will have as many parliaments as the king of England himself." So saying, his highness produced two lists of names. "See here," he said. "Here are my parliaments. But I have made up my mind, to prevent inconvenience, to elect them myself."

So Funny of Him.

Mrs. Lazenbee—Here's the man come to fix our clock. Go upstairs and get it for him, won't you? Mr. Lazenbee—It isn't upstairs, is it? Mrs. Lazenbee—Certainly. Where did you think it was? Mr. Lazenbee—I thought it had run down.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Presence of Mind.

Sarah Brum—How do I look in this hat? Sarah Bellum—Turn around and let me see the back of it dear. Why, it's perfectly splendid!—Chicago Tribune.

Destiny bears us to our lot, and destiny is perhaps our own will.—Disraeli.

TOO PROUD TO GO BEGGING

Kentucky Family is Found in Chicago in Pitiable Plight.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Huddled behind a high backed Colonial chair, the only piece of furniture in the home at 6323 Morgan street, the family of Joseph Barry, formerly of Henderson, Ky., was found cold and starving by neighbors. The wife, Hattie and her four small children, two boys and two girls were waiting for news from the Englewood Hospital, where the husband, Joseph Barry, has been taken to be operated on. The mother and children were too weak from hunger to visit the father, and had remained in the bleak room for three days, too proud to beg assistance.

"We came from Henderson, Ky., and are related to the Barrys of Louisville," said Mrs. Barry. "It is about eighteen months since we came to Chicago.

"At first Mr. Barry was able to work. Then he became ill and we had to sell out our belongings, a little at a time. We were all sold out about a month ago, and Mr. Barry grew worse. The last money we had went for doctors and medicine. Then Joe was taken to the hospital and I have waited here ever since.

The children cried as their mother told of their "waiting," without anything to eat and nothing to keep them warm except the high backed chair used as a sort of wind-break to sleep behind at night.

After neighbors discovered the family's plight immediate relief was given to the sufferers. Reports from the hospital state that Mr. Barry is recovering from the operation.

Gumption of the Farm.

When you plant, this spring, sow a few seeds of kindness. They will flourish so and produce such an abundant crop of good cheer that you will be encouraged to plant largely of this crop another year. No crop pays better.

Your oats will not be so apt to rust if you get them in early.

The more a man goes around the loss he is apt to develop into a crank.

Don't complain if you lose some of your grain sacks at the mill—if you have not marked them. Have every bag plainly marked.

Don't be in too big a hurry. It's unwise to work soil when it is soggy and very wet. Wait until it dries into crumbly, workable condition.

Now mind this: Make two sowings of clover seed, one now and one early in April. Use half red, other half alsike. Do not miss the alsike.

The more corn the more stock; the more stock the richer the land; the richer the land the more corn, and there you have the secret of a rotation that is sure to bring success.

Entirely too many people in this world are making themselves cross-eyed looking for the street of easy money. This is as vain and foolish as hunting for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

Just as soon as the frost is out of the ground it will do to sow onion seed and peas. Beets, early potatoes, spinach, radishes and lettuce may be planted early, too. Tender vegetables should wait until April or May.

It is a mistake to plant the same types of vegetables in the same spot year after year; keep them moving to prevent insects and diseases from getting a foothold, and it is a mistake to forget that a garden needs plant food in order to nourish vegetables properly. Stable manure and a sprinkling of bonemeal will do, nicely.—Farm Journal.

Sixty-Five Days of Racing.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 29.—Saturday May 13, will be the date for the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, where the spring meeting of the new Louisville Jockey Club will continue twenty-three racing days.

This was the decision of the Kentucky Racing Commission at its meeting here yesterday. The Louisville men sought twenty-five days of racing but were forced to yield two days to Latonia, and the Churchill Downs sport will end on Tuesday, June 8.

The Latonia Jockey Club will have the thirty-one racing days for which they have asked. One day, Friday, June 9, will elapse between the Louisville and Latonia meeting, and the Latonia meeting will begin on Saturday, June 10, and end on Saturday, July 15. As the dates for the Lexington spring meeting were fixed at the last meeting of the commission to begin on Thursday, May 11—eleven racing days the schedule for racing in Kentucky is now fixed. With eleven days at Lexington, twenty-three at Louisville and thirty-one at Latonia, there will be sixty-five days of racing in the state this spring.

Growing Alfalfa.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 28.—The lowly alfalfa is likely to help to reduce the cost of living, for experiments just made with this plant show it to be nourishing for a man as well as beast. It is, moreover, said to be delicious when properly served.

F. J. Thomas, a farmer of the Hermon district, experimented recently with alfalfa shoots and offers to vouch for their desirability as human food. Recently he turned a field of alfalfa under and when running a disc plow over the ground later, he found the roots had put out new shoots, which were white and tender.

Gathering a bunch he looked up a cook book on the preparation of asparagus. He followed the directions but being a little timid he tried the dish on the hired man, to the latter's ignorance of what it was. He pronounced it fine, and when he asked for more, Mr. Thomas took courage and tried it himself. Since the experiment a week ago the five acre tract has been dug over twice in search of the tender shoots, so well does the Thomas family like the new dish.

"Lame Leg Well"

"I wish to say that I have used Sloan's Liniment on a lame leg that has given me much trouble for six months. It was so bad that I couldn't walk sometimes for a week. I tried doctors' medicine and had a rubber bandage for my leg, and bought everything that I heard of, but they all did me no good, until at last I was persuaded to try Sloan's Liniment. The first application helped it, and in two weeks my leg was well."—A. L. HUNTER, of Hunter, Ala.

$8.50 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY $4.50

The regular retail price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but to introduce we will sell you a sample pair for $4.50 (cash with order $4.50). NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES NAILS, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use. DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of this, specially prepared fabric on the tread. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them exactly as represented. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer. IF YOU NEED TIRES Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and trial at the special introductory price quoted above; or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle DO NOT WAIT or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

Four-Fifths of Your Store Patrons Were Won by Advertising—And Four-Fifths of These Would Be Lost if You Stopped Advertising!

Newspaper advertising is a part of all worth-while store-service—a part of it which patrons particularly value. For it keeps them in touch with your store-events, your sales, the arrival of new stocks, the showing of novelties, the buying opportunities which your store must create for its friends. The advertising becomes the link between the store and its clientele. They expect the store's advertising to SERVE THEM—"not now and then," not partially; but ALWAYS, and fully! To curtail the advertising—in volume or frequency—would make the same impression on them as though you moved into smaller quarters and cut down your force of clerks and workers. To INCREASE your advertising to make it more complete as "store news," as a "market letter," as a bulletin of bargains—will have the effect of enlisting a lot of new store-friends every day, and of winning anew all of the old ones!

ANOTHER HATFIELD IS NOW HEARD FROM In Mexico Killing the Greasers By Shooting Their Faces Off.

Mexicali, Mexico, March 1.—"Wild Bill" Hatfield, one of the famous McCoy-Hatfield feudists of Kentucky who is an American recruit in Gen. Leyva's rebel army, shot a Mexican insurgent named Francisco last night. Hatfield used an automatic gun and the victim's face was shot away. Francisco was taken to the international line by his comrades and routed across the border. He was picked up by Red Cross attendants and taken to the hospital in Calexico, where he died. Nothing was done with Hatfield by the insurgent. It is thought that the shooting may cause a feud between the American and the Mexican members of the rebel army. One hundred insurgents marched out of Mexico last night to form a junction with the advance guard of sixty sent out Wednesday. With the detachment went Gen. Leyva, who will operate against Ensenada.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

It your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

That Jug-Handled Agreement.

A good many years ago we tried a "reciprocity" agreement with our Canadian neighbors. We held the sack for a few years, until the balance of trade was against us to the tune of $13,000,000 a year, then we dropped out. The pace was too swift. Canada has everything to gain by a jug-handled arrangement which gives her farmers free access to the American market. The farmer who cannot see the danger to his own interests in a proposition of that kind should consult an oculist.—Manchester Ia. Press.

Farmers and Protective Tariff.

It is hardly possible that the proposed "reciprocity" agreement with Canada will force an alignment of interests and people in this country on two sides of the question. "Is the farmer and farming the foundation of the whole country's prosperity and general welfare?"

The farmer has responded to calls for help to maintain the protective tariff policy of this country up to the present time. He has not done it because of any direct benefits that he might derive. He has done it by yielding to the argument that he should help protect infant industry, manufacturing in particular and thus create a great consumption of his products at home. It was explained to the farmer that the net profit to him would be greater if his products were consumed at home instead of being sent to foreign countries to be consumed. It was agreed that the transportation charges, as well as some handling charges, would be saved and added to his profits. The farmer agreed in good faith, but the other fellow has been a rascal all along the line and the farmer would be justified now in requiring the duty removed from a great many manufactured articles, but maintained at its present standard on all farm products.

First we behold the wholesale fraud in the collection of duty on sugar products, making it almost impossible for sugar cane and sugar-beet growers in this country, to develop their industry in any manner.

Then the evasion of the duty on grain in the form of the notorious drawback clause. This made it possible for the grain manufacturing interests to import grain from foreign countries and thus be able to keep their business in operation at a profit, regardless of what happened to the grain grower at home. Hundreds of other little instances of similar character that have taken place in the past need not be mentioned.

The people of this country must line up, for or against, the farmer and his direct interests in the immediate future; that is, if the farmer will bestir himself in the least. It may be that the manufacturing and other commercial interests will recede from their position for the present, but look out for the dog in the manger if they do.

We have recently had the effort to flood the markets of this country with cheap barley, by a temporary suspension of the duty on it, and thus destroy the market for home grown barley when it gets ready this fall. Then came the announcement about the Government having been defrauded of five million dollars (5,000,000) annually by neglect to collect duty on tobacco from foreign countries. No wonder the American Tobacco Company has been able to resist the American tobacco growers as persistently as it has.

Now, to cap the climax, comes the proposed "reciprocity" agreement with Canada. Letting down the bars on food stuffs from Canada to the United States and on agricultural implements from the United States to Canada would flood American markets with Canadian farm products and the manufacturers' markets for farm implements would stimulate a demand for them at home, and with it an increase in price for American farmers to pay.

Farm products in free, agricultural implements out free, and prices on farm products down and on farm implements up, may sound like money made to some but if the American farmer will step to listen to it a while it may prove to be a bugle call to battle.

Fortunately for the American farmer, there are now farmers' organizations strong enough to shake the country from end to end if it be necessary to prevent an injustice being done. This is an occasion when every farmer in the country who has not made himself a part of any organization should do so at once. We want nothing better to prove that if farmers shall not be a door-mat for other classes of people they must, at all times set aside a part of their income for the maintenance of an organization.

Farmers can not rise quickly and untidily as they have done on several occasions these last years without being organized.

Let us hope that this impending danger will stimulate every mother's son who has been a member of a farmers' organization and dropped out by non-payment of dues, to pay up at once as well as to induce others, who have not yet joined to do so at once.

Let us make our machine as powerful and as perfect as possible and in as short a time as possible, so that we may be ready to successfully combat any onslaughts that may be made on our business as farmers at any time. Let us be ready to underscore justice if we can not underscore it. If we are to continue as a protective tariff county let the tariff apply alike everywhere.—Co-operative Guide.

Didn't Like Comparisons.

"What made that prima donna demand your discharge?"

"I wrote an article," replied the press agent, "saying that she sings like an angel. She said she saw no reason for complimentary reference to anybody's singing except her own."—Washington Star.

Suits Some—Death to Others.

"Iron may be good for the blood of some," remarked the worm as the angler threaded the hook through him gently, "but I fear it will be the death of me!"

And yet the fish that swallowed the iron a little later was quite carried away with it.

Advertising as a Science Pays.

Some people say that advertising is all a matter of luck; that you cannot tell what advertising is going to do, whether or not it is going to pay. This may be true; but it is very strange that the man who gives intelligent thought to his advertising and does it in an intelligent, earnest, straightforward way, usually has the luck on his side. He is lucky in his advertising because he reduces it to a science. Advertising is just as certain as paying rent. Advertising is governed by the same common sense business lines that govern buying a lot of tomatoes or codfish.
